FOREWORD

Autumn leaves glowed vermillion, russet, and primrose, reflecting nature's artistry on the sun-bathed earth. Golden beams filtering through stained-glass windows, revealed the interior of God's House, also bedecked in gold, scarlet, and topaz. St. Paul's was the privileged host to friends and benefactors from all over Virginia, attending the tercentenary celebration of the deaths of St. Vincent de Paul and St. Louise de Marillac.

Our two Bishops, as well as priests, parents, and friends, each in his own individual way, helped our Sisters honor their founders on this memorable occasion. As we adored our God in the splendor of a Pontifical High Mass, our prayers were filled with gratitude for those around us who have been guiding us on the road to sanctity.

THE MOST REVEREND JOHN J. RUSSELL D.D.

Bishop of Richmond

Bishop Russell proved most entertaining while conversing with Mary Marfio, Mary Lee Chambley, and Thomas Carr after the Pontifical High Mass at Saint Paul's on October fourth.

These Are Our Spiritual Leaders
THE MOST REVEREND JOSEPH J. HODGES D.D.
Auxiliary Bishop of Richmond

Bishop Hodges listens while Betty Ann Simmons, James Resolute and Rocco Tavares express their appreciation of his sermon about Saint Vincent de Paul and Saint Louise de Marillac.

DEDICATION

Monsignor Govaert, an outstanding personality in the "lives of the Saints," has always been our friend and spiritual guide. Saint Paul's Central High is the product of his untiring labors and constant vigilance. We, therefore, dedicate our first year-book to him as a manifestation of our heartfelt gratitude for his patient service and complete selflessness.

ORGANIZATIONS

PUBLICATIONS

CHILDREN OF MARY

The first annual May procession of our Central high was climaxed by the crowning of our Lady by Mary Ann Scales, President of the C. O. M.

Members recite the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin in the Sisters' Chapel.

Stevie McLaughlin and Mary Ann Scales set up an exhibit representing the various stages of the life of a Daughter of Charity.

Mr. J. P. Trant, President of the Kiwanis Club holds a friendly chat with James Resolute, President of St. Paul's Key Club.

Robert Taylor accepts a trophy for winning 1st place in the ping pong tournament sponsored by the Key Club. Edward Gillikin bestows the honor as James Resolute looks on.

KEY CLUB

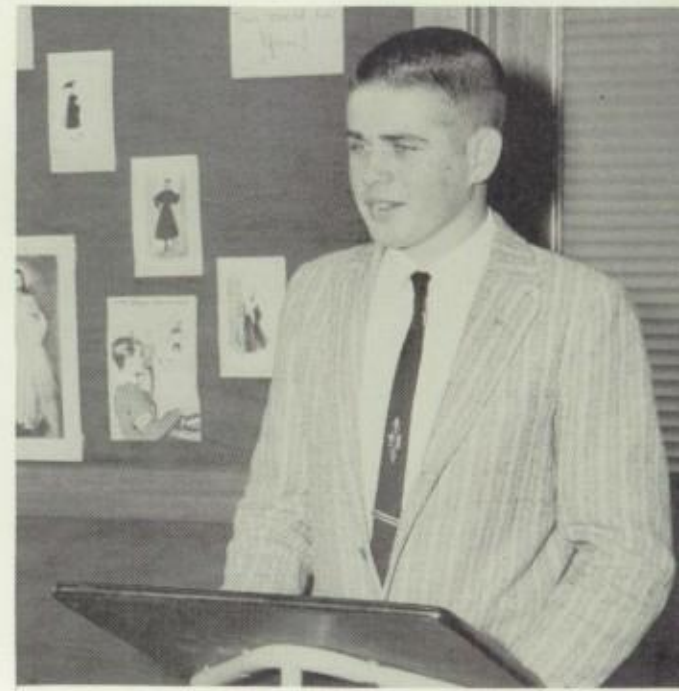

Roger Darr, Ben Foster, and Steve Pierce, members of the Key Club, set up booths in the new lounge.

Debating team members discuss the National Forensic League Debate Tournament at Norfolk Catholic.

DONALD FORD

RESOLVED: THE U.N. SHOULD BE SIGNIFICANTLY STRENGTHENED

"Strengthening the U. N. is not only practical but advantageous."

DEAN SWORD

THOMAS CARR

"World leaders have voiced their disappointment in the U. N."

"U. N. could mushroom into world Government."

STEVE JOHNAKIN

"The U. N. was founded to bring order to the world."

Sister Mary Matthew looks on as the teams compile facts for a forthcoming debate.

Time-keeper Jean Piedmont checks her watch while chairman, Pat Glynn, takes notes.

BEVERLY SHARPE

"The United Nations is being looked upon as the only hope of preventing a third World War."

ALEX HALMAI

"The strengthening of the U. N. is absolutely necessary."

"I'll take one of those, Mary Lee," says Wayne Vara to Miss Chambley. Supervising the candy counter at lunch-time is another Student Council function. Senior councillor Richard Johnston lends a willing hand.

Roger Darr and Patricia Camantigue, President and Vice President of the Student Council.

COOPERATION

School unity is essential for success in all endeavors. Understanding between faculty and student-body is attained through student government. Each homeroom elects its representatives to act as official mediators between student and faculty. Together they settle differences with solutions that satisfy everyone.

Freshman Councillors; Tina Bachas, Charles Joyner, Joan Rowe, and Robert Taylor, stop at the "oasis," a favorite spot between classes.

Rita Bass tries to convince doubtful Mike Glynn on the advantage of making the "down" stairs—"up."

THROUGH REPRESENTATION

John Krezel, Mary Lou Morgan, and James Trefny, head for class after directing 'tween-bell traffic.

Eighth grade councillors, Peggy Cuthriell, Catherine Rossi, and Jay Copley, leave class for Student Council meeting.

"This is the one I goofed," quips photographer, Steve Jonaken to Janet Buchanan, Spirit editor.

Planning layouts for "The Spirit" are James Resolute, Stevie McLaughlin, Dean Sword, and Geraldine Javier.

THE SPIRIT

Business Managers, Wilma Robinson, Mary Lee Chambley, and Donna Bondoc, total and file bills for the "Spirit."

"The Spirit" typist, Pat Dolan, Rosemary Revell, Betty Cowling, and Dyan Rich are preparing the Christmas edition of the paper.

Reviewing pictures for use in the annual are Pat Shanley, Wayne Vara, Beverly Sharpe, and John Murphy.

Planning pages for "The Saint" are Phyllis Spiaggi, Sarah Higgenbotham, Rita Mae Bass, and Kathy Magee.

Dyan Rich, Rosemary Revell, Dean Sword, and Barbara Salanga are getting ideas for our yearbook.

THE SAINT

"The Saint's" business staff are typing thank you notes to our advertisers. They are: Richard Johnston, Pat Camantigue, John Bowers, and Betty Ann Simmons.

Rosemary Revell is typing cards for card catalogue while Carolyn Clark supervises.

Barbara Horan is doing her dusting duty while Frances Buckley and Patricia Machamer shelve books.

Putting the finishing touches to the bulletin board is Rowena Rich. Rebecca Darr and Margaret Mounie approve her artistry.

Noel Byrd is checking out books to Mary Bridget Foster and Joan Rowe.

Looking over the latest magazines are Rita Mae Bass, Rachel LeBoeuf, Mary Carpenito, and Eileen Dunn.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

Sandra Butler, Yolanda Peterson, Donna Bondoc, Delma Davis, Marion Mabry, and Karen Sikorski are enjoying themselves during a Library Social.

Sharon McAllister, Barbara Ann Stapler, Betty Jean Miano and Gretchen Crowe are preparing books for circulation.

Monsignor Govaert addresses gathering at banquet honoring eldest members of the Alumnae Assn.

Alumnae members assigned to K.P. duty make quick work of their task after a delicious meal.

Thomas Carr, Monsignor Govaert, Mr. J. Myers Cole, F.B.I. agent, and Catherine Didio, President of Alumnae seem engrossed in today's problems.

OUR ALUMNAE AND

Loyalty to their Alma Mater is the constant theme of the Alumnae Assn. Each year they conduct projects and plan activities for the sole benefit of their school and the students attending it.

St. Paul's Alumnae honors very faithful members "Over Seventy."

The seniors obviously enjoy their banquet—compliments of the Alumnae.

Parent - teacher understanding and cooperation is essential in the training of good students. The Home-School Assn. provides a sounding board for differences of opinion, and has become a center of active, interest in student occupations.

Parents of 8th graders return to the good ol' days.

PARENTS OF FUTURE GRADUATES

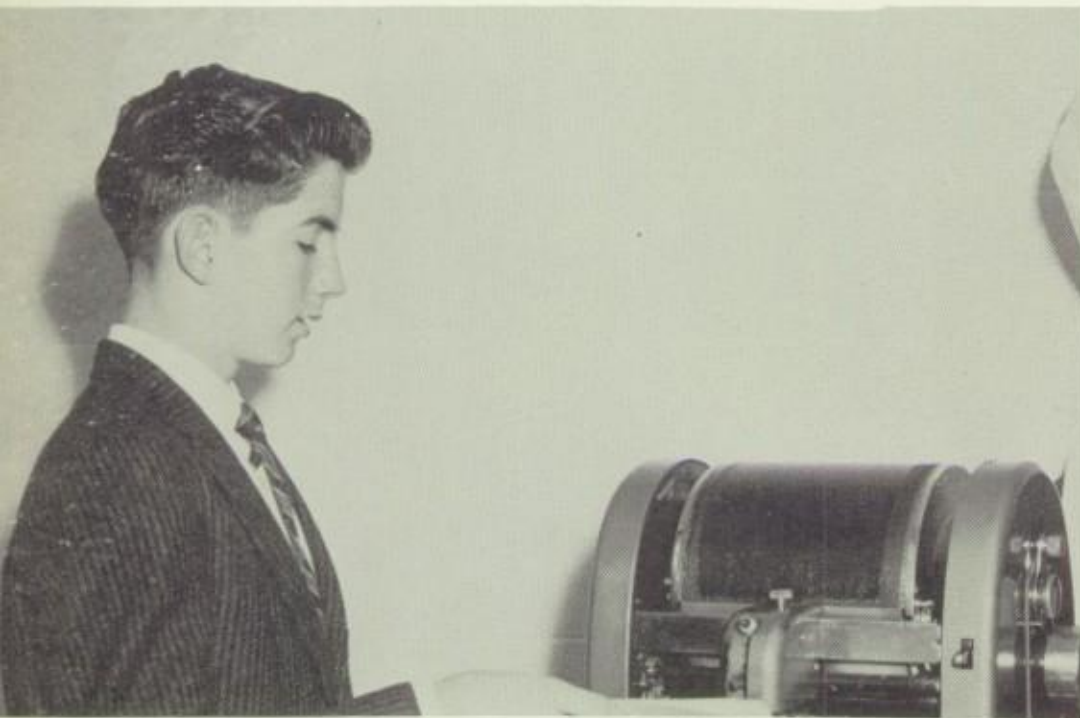

Mr. F. A. Shanley, Sister de Paul, and Mr. R. Dunn, enjoy friendly chats at Home-School meetings.

Mrs. P. E. Benzie, President of the Home-School Association in 1960-61, is installing the new officers for next year. Holding candles which represent their various offices are Mr. U. E. Allen, Jr., Secretary; Mr. Ray Ficenec, Vice-President; and Mrs. Walter R. Taylor, President. Mrs. Alphonse Carpenito, our new treasurer, was not present for the ceremony.

Sister Zoe conducts the business club meeting while members hold a discussion. They are: Philip Hoelzel, Betty Cowling, Betty Simmons, Wilma Robinson, Barbara Salanga, and William Smith.

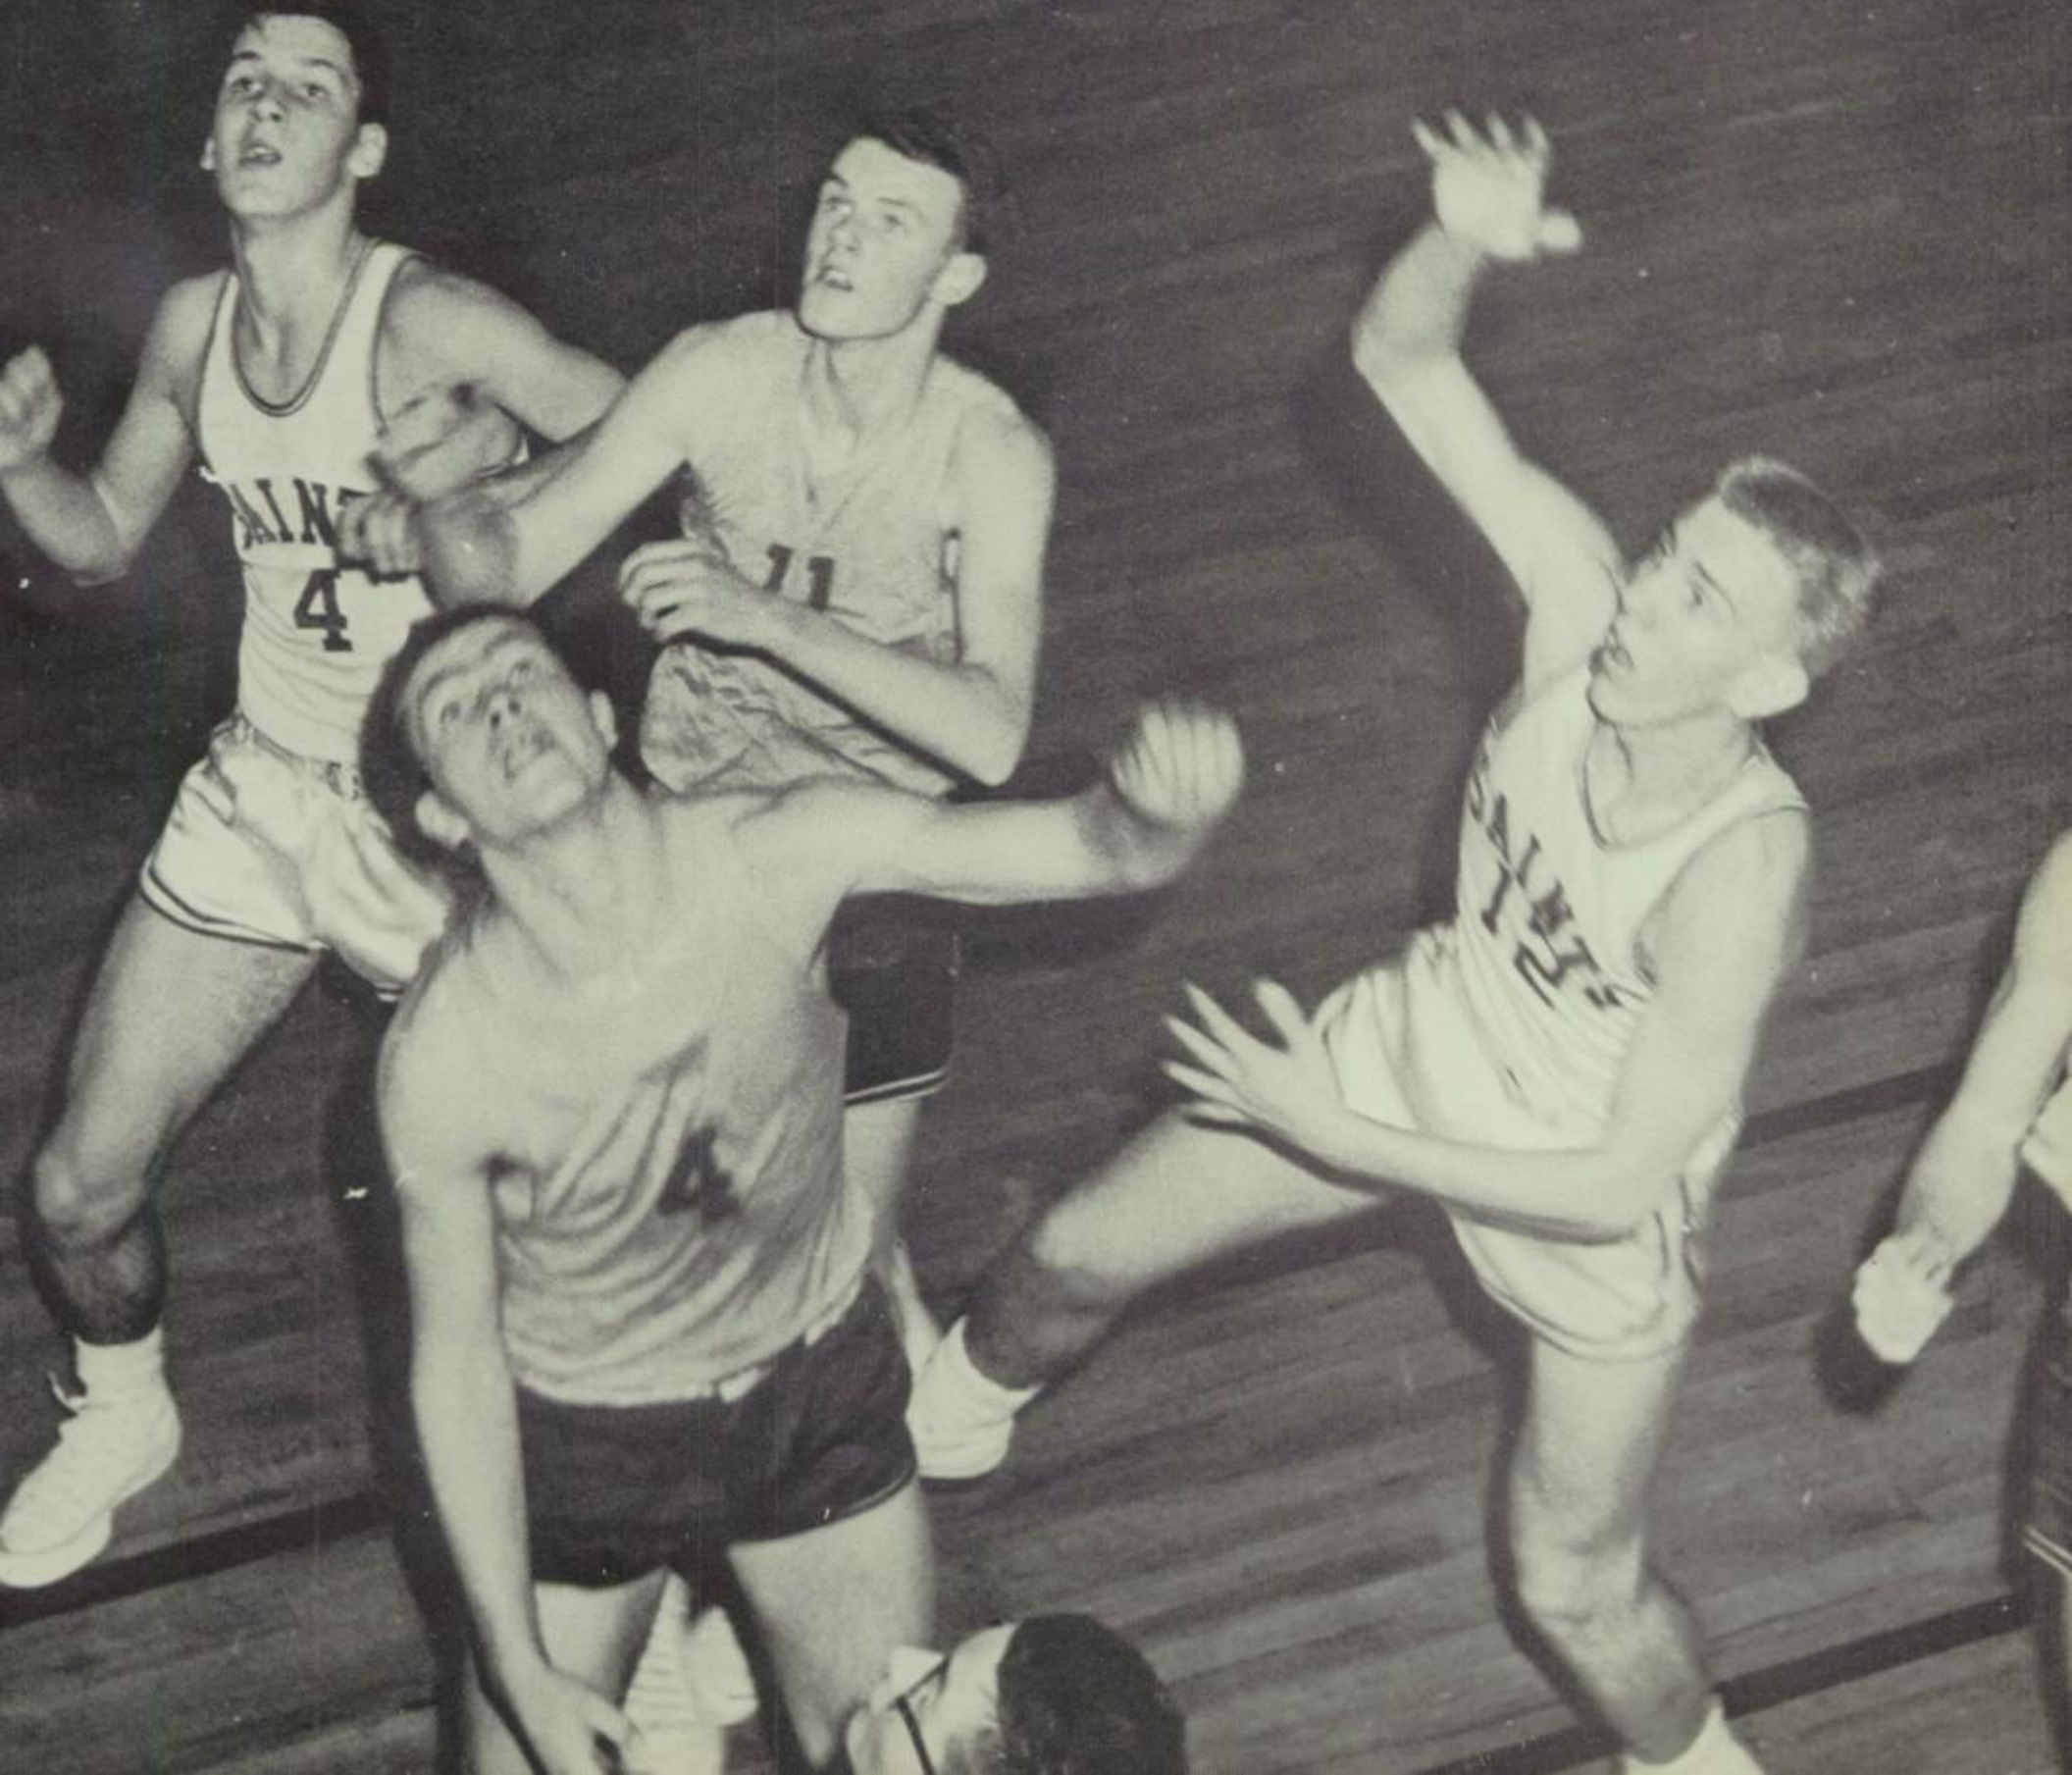

Billy Nagle is setting up the Azograph to run off an Alumnae announcement.

BUSINESS CLUB

Senior typist get set for a race. "1—2—3—Twirl!"

JUNIOR MEMBERS OF ST. PAUL'S VARSITY

Clockwise: Judy Mounie, Joan Rakowski, Anne Copley, Susan Kenney, JoAnne Cuthriell, Mary Lou Morgan, Mary Ellen Piedmont, and Diane Pace, spurred our teams to victory by their untiring enthusiasm.

Co-Captain Mike Glynn signals a play to fellow teammates.

"An' now I'll tiptoe down here, ... 'cause the referee's over there, ... An' then I'll ..."

Anne Carpin insists on getting around the "hard" way.

Mike Glynn displays good form in tournament encounter with Benedictine.

"... And away we go!" Anne Copley, Mary Eleen Piedmont, and Joan Rakowski prepare for take-off.

ACTIVITIES

Our own Monsignor Go-vaert wishes the student body a "Happy and Holy Christmas!"

"And from the hand of the Almighty sped
a missile—the Missile of Redemption."

"GLAD TIDINGS..."

The choral group, donned in white gowns and red stoles, flash a winning smile after final curtain.

Sister Rose gives Mrs. Margaret Bankos helpful hints on what carols should be used in our annual Christmas Pageant.

Mary Tobin, Maid of Honor watches Roger Darr crown Mary Ellen Piedmont, Crystal Queen.

Queen Mary Ellen and her attendants gracefully glide to a coronation waltz.

Queen Mary Ellen, her attendants and their escorts, comprise official 1961 Crystal Court. They are, left to right, Anne Carpin, Henry Hudgins, Jan Burton, Ben

Foster, Queen Mary Ellen, Mary Tobin, J. C. Smith, Peggy Perrot, Johnny Rousey, and Carolyn Clark.

Father McEleney crowns Miss Janice Burton, Homecoming Queen.

"'Vulture' what are you sitting on?"

"WELCOME HOME GRADS OF '40!"

Anxious spectators await Homecoming coronation ceremony.

Alumnae cheerleaders, Janie Kilpatrick, Joanne Carpenito, and Judy Kirsh, think their team is "great, great, great."

Homecoming festivities honoring the Class of 1940, included two basketball games, a coronation, Benediction in Church, and a buffet-dinner and dance. One of the highlights of this year's celebration, to be long remembered, occurred at the climax of the girls game. Both teams converged on the floor and proceeded to play boy's basketball. Even the referee joined in the fun, scoring two points for us.

Happy crowd pauses during quiet, just before introduction of the Homecoming Court.

Mary Ann Scales "affectionately fouls" Pauletta Salafia in the annual scrapple with the Alumnae.

Mayor Irvine Smith, Mrs. J. Bisese, Mr. Bisese, (behind the flowers) Father McEleney, John Connell, Mrs. Connell, and Coach Howard, renew old friendships and make new acquaintances at the Homecoming buffet.

Father McEleney presents a bouquet to Miss Donna Bondoc, Homecoming Maid-of-Honor, for 1961.

RING DANCE

The reception of his school ring is one of the most cherished privileges of a senior. To celebrate this occasion, the junior class sponsors our annual Ring Dance. The highlight of an evening of dancing and fun, is the Ring ceremony. After walking through a huge gold replica of our school ring, each senior is presented with his own ring, which he will treasure always, as the favorite souvenir of his high-school days.

"O God, by Whose word all things are made holy, pour down Thy blessing on these rings which Thou hast created, and grant that whoever, giving thanks to Thee, uses them in accordance with Thy law and Thy will, may, by calling upon Thy holy name, receive through Thy aid health of body and protection of soul. Through Christ our Lord." Amen

Mrs. Hoffler imparts friendly advice to some members of the cast: Jan Burton, Janet Buchanan, Betty Ann Simmons and Judy Nuckols.

Pat Shanley, Pat Cantwell, Janet Buchanan and Betty Simmons depict mixed emotions in practice frolics.

"A rose and a daisy tried something crazy", bellows Pat Cantwell to his his wife's dismay, but to the amusement of those backstage.

"Mother" Betty Ann Simmons desperately seeks a remedy for her "husband's" newly adopted craze for singing from her "daughter" Judy Nuckols and her "son" Stan Majkut.

Retreat Master, Father Joseph Bernier holds students spellbound as he reveals his unique understanding of their innermost thoughts and feelings.

WE PRAY....

Our spiritual welfare is the primary ideal in the life of a Catholic student. For three days each year, we retire from our hectic academic schedule, and gay social whirl, and devote our entire time and effort to thinking deeper thoughts... about God, and our relationship to Him. This is achieved by conferences with our Retreat Master, inspirational literature, and private prayer.

Father McEleney and student body offer the Sacred Host to God in adoration, thanksgiving, and supplication that all may make a good retreat.

Rosemary Revell and Mary Lee Chambley prepare bulletin board depicting Christ visiting our high school, in keeping with the theme of our retreat.

"Rev." Jerome Bisese solemnly intones the marital promises of the bride and groom while altar boys William Smith and Mac Hines reverently offer silent prayers.

MOCK WEDDING

As Seniors, we learn of the sacredness, joys, and trials of married life, and also of the ceremony the Church provides for Her children who are entering upon the sacrament of Matrimony. To illustrate the advantages of a Nuptial Mass, we applied our knowledge to practice, and demonstrated the ideal Catholic Wedding.

Wedding ceremony reaches its ebb as couple is pronounced man and wife and the Nuptial Blessing is given.

Stevie McLaughlin beams as she receives a special meritorious award for sportsmanship. Nodding their approval are Mr. Frederick Stant, guest speaker for the evening, and Rev. Joseph A. Leitch, pastor of Little Flower Church.

AWARDS NIGHT

Scholastic achievement, as well as athletic skill is a rewarding accomplishment. This year at our annual Awards Banquet, sponsored by the Athletic Association, the practice of giving academic awards, as well as basketball monograms, was initiated. The purpose is to provide a further incentive for interest, perseverance, and zeal in studies, and to give well-earned merit to our outstanding scholars.

Father Farrell presents a History award to James Resolute.

Pat Camantigue accepts the coveted award of Best-all-round student at St. Pauls.

The award for excellence in foreign languages is happily accepted by Sam Clark.

Mr. Norman A. Butler, President of the Catholic Club, awards the James Piland Trophy for most valuable player to Lewis Ollice.

A mathematics award was presented to Eileen Laughbaum by Father Farrell.

Amelia Warren earned an award for Catholic Action.

Following the Grand March, Mary Ann Scales crowns Our Lady Queen of the May, enthroned in a blossom-adorned stone grotto.

These couples seem to find the music provided by the "Starliters" extremely enjoyable.

"..... in the garden of our dreams....."

Distracted by the charm of his lovely date, Barbara Salanga, Tony Dalla Villa obliges Bill Morlino as Bill fills in his memory book. Mac Hines and Kathy Magee are just arriving.

SOUTHERN ENCHANTMENT

Re-enacting the beauty and grace of the "old Southern plantation", our Seniors and Juniors danced with their favorite partners mid the blossoming garden of a traditional white mansion. Under the watchful eyes of our Lady, enthroned in her grotto, they drifted through the annals of time and imagined themselves as real southern belles and gentlemen. Then, as all good things come to an end, their fantasy was replaced by fond memories, with strains of "Good-night Sweetheart" fading into the breeze.

OUR GRADUATION

Once again surrounded by those dear to us, in the beauty and splendor of the Home of our God, we received our diplomas representing achievement of 12 years of learning and happiness at St. Paul's. Welcome back, dear graduates, and re-live those moments of the happiest, yet saddest day of our lives.

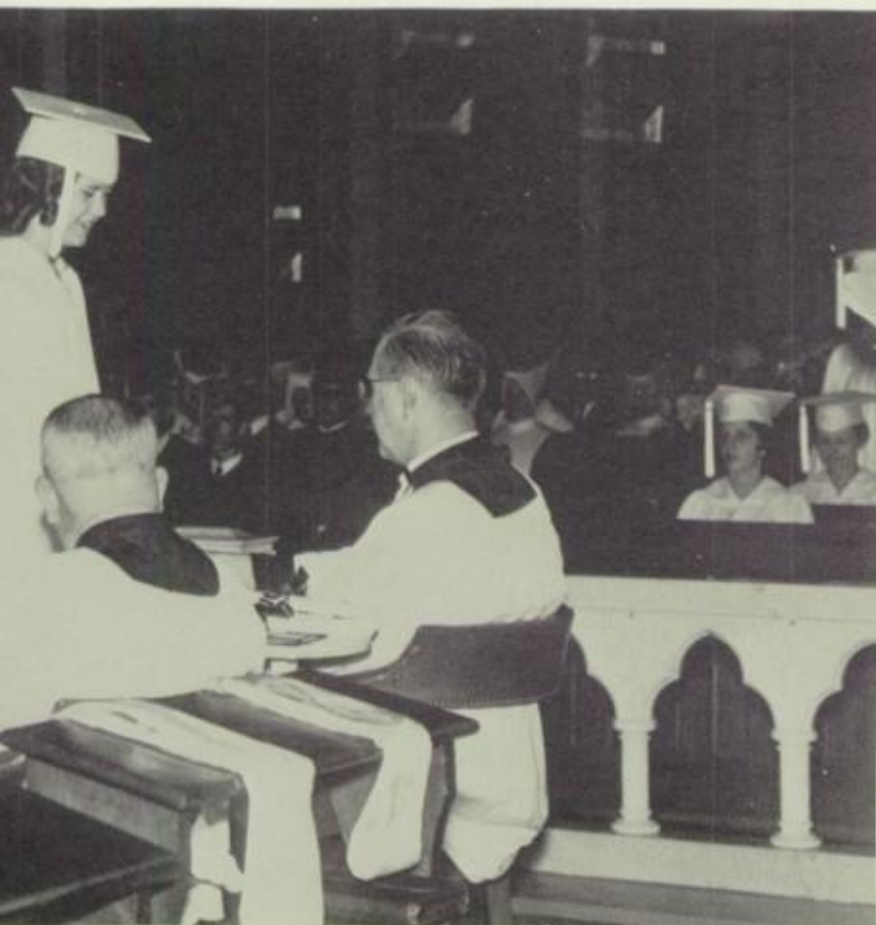

James Resolute solemnly leads the processional through the Knights of Columbus Honor Guard. . .

One by one we are called

John Murphy proudly accepts his diploma from Father Farrell. . . .

followed by Dyan Rich. . . .

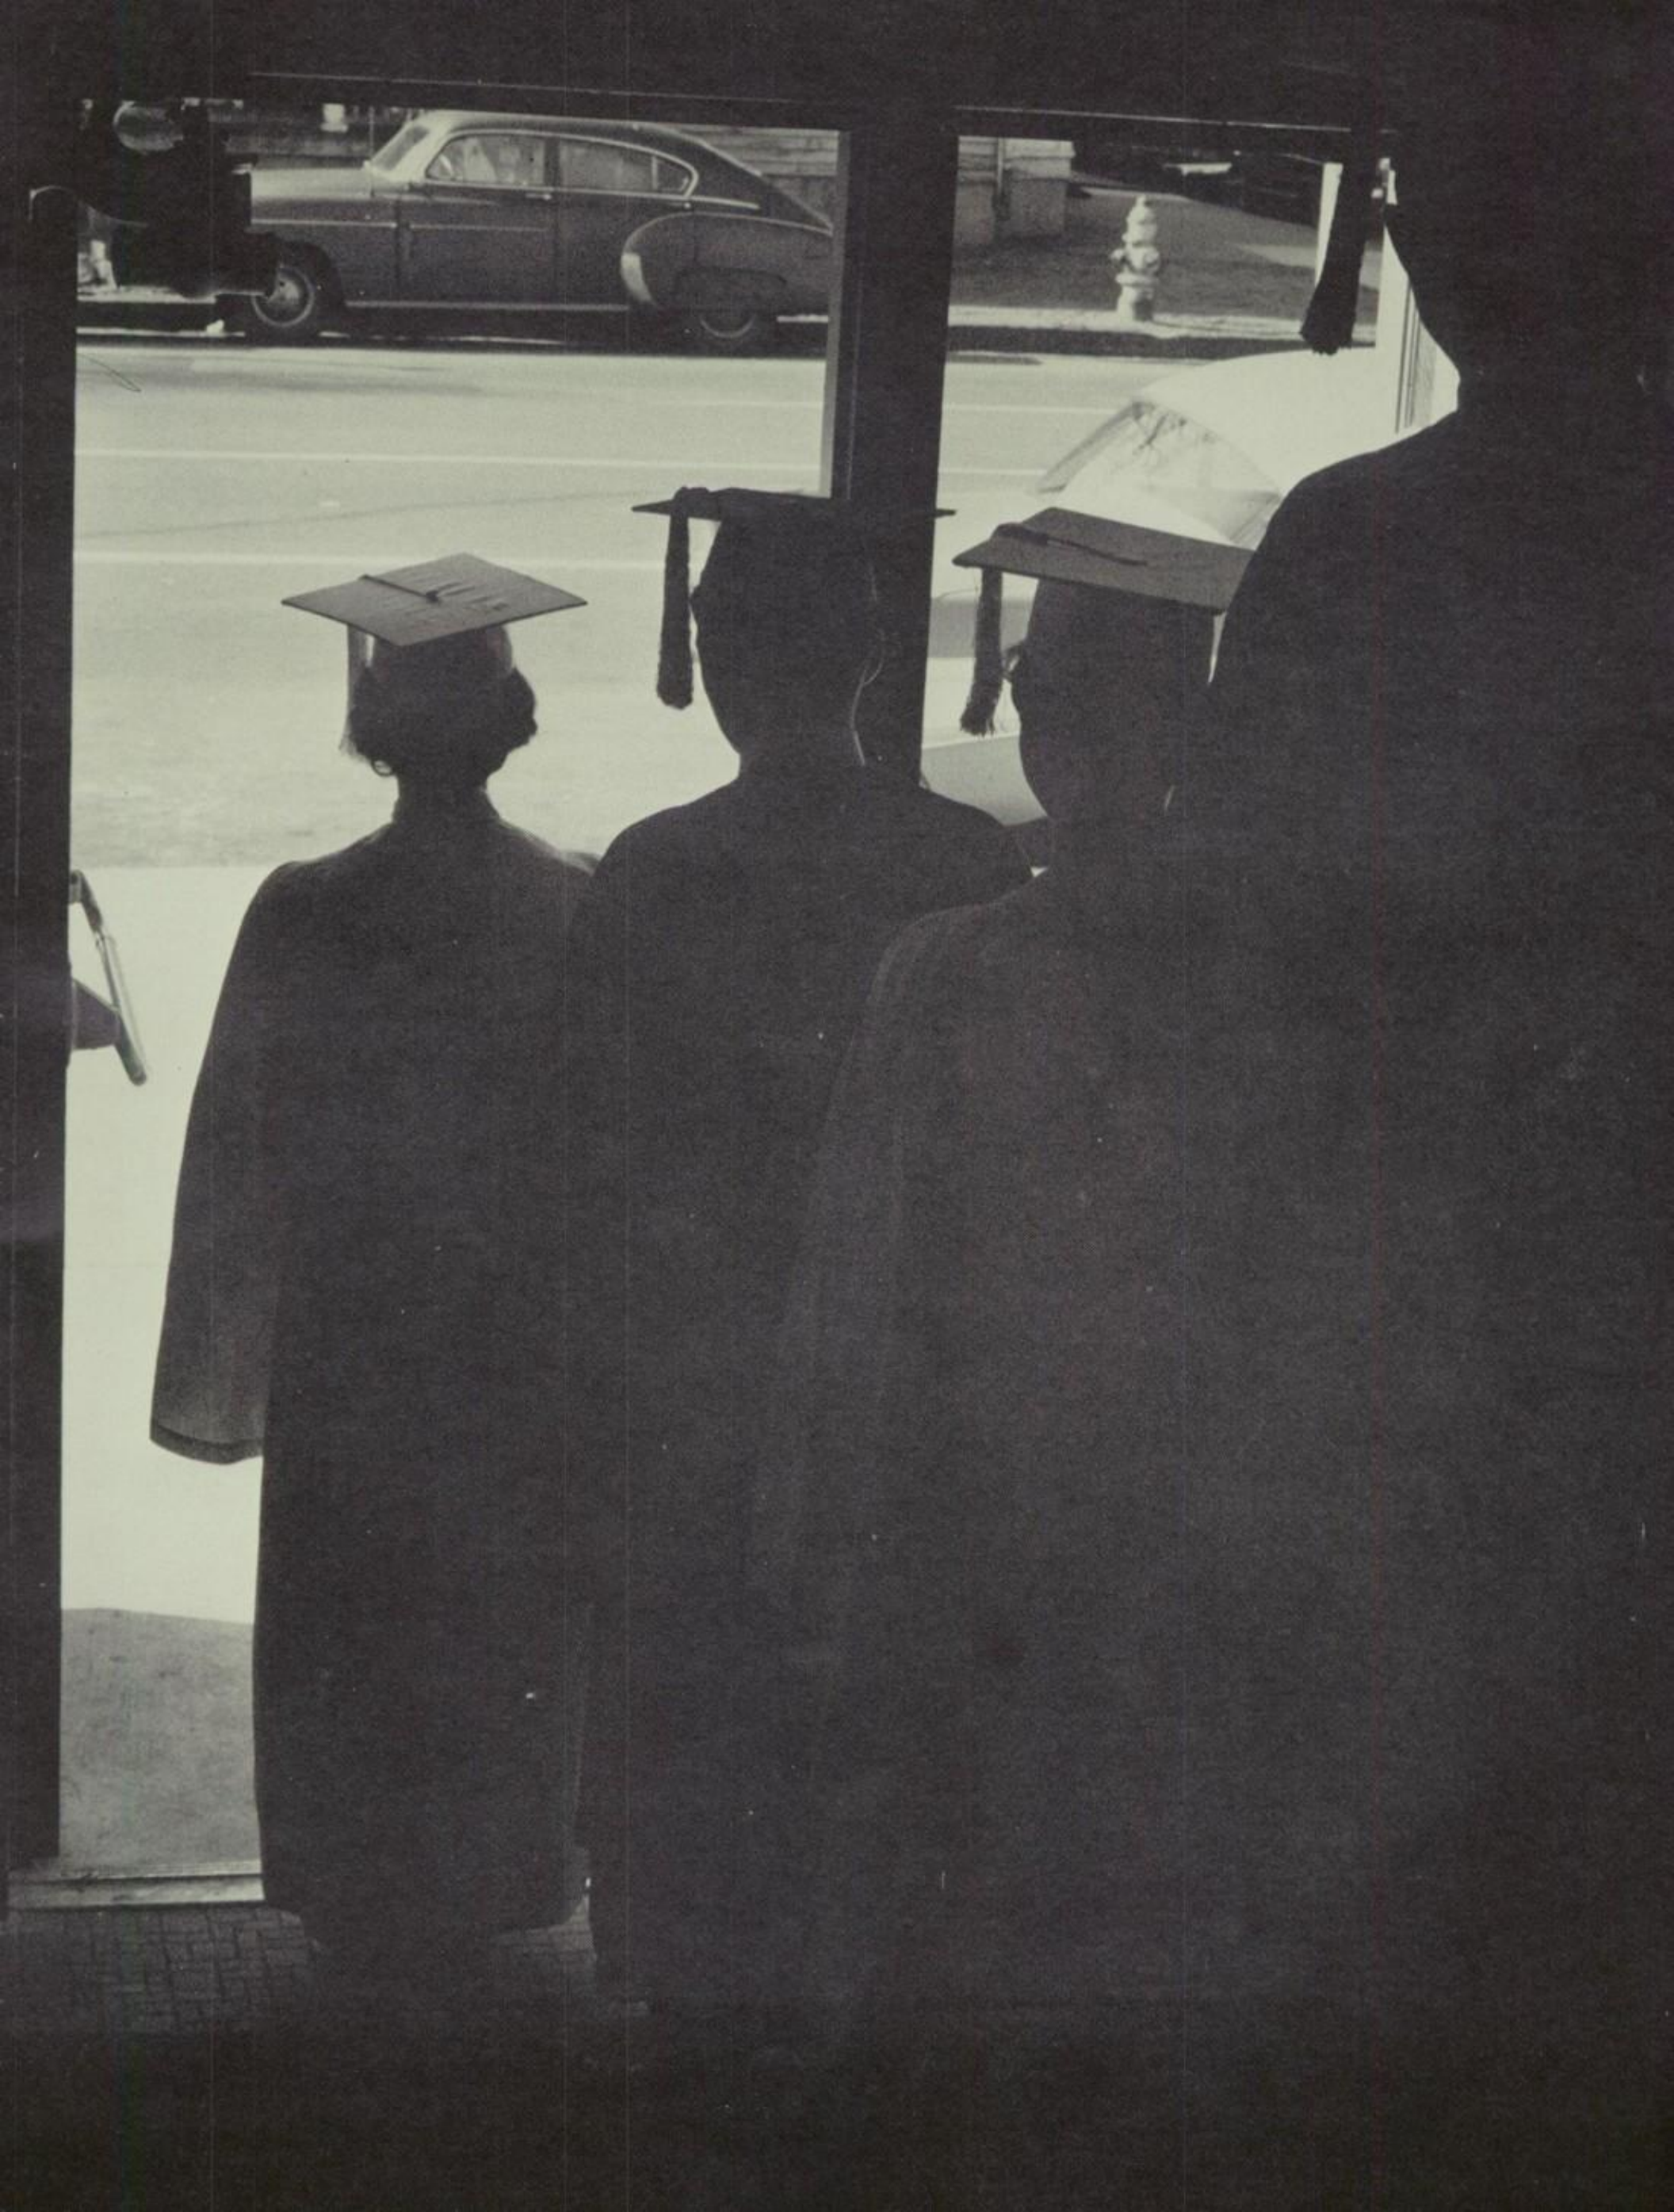

Wayne Vara stands to receive his Catholic University Diploma

Then, to resounding strains of Pomp and Circumstance

We took the "longest walk in the world."

VERE DIGNUM ET JUSTUM EST

As the year closed and the excitement of coming events had already made our hearts skip with gladness, the "Saints" were suddenly reminded of the stark realities that lie ahead, beyond the day of graduation. Monsignor, our father and friend, who had guided and aided our Catholic education from First Communion days, fell asleep and returned to God.

We shall never be able to recall our school days without fond memories of Monsignor. Shirt-sleeved, busy about the school, conscious of goals far beyond our dreams; or at the altar, robed as a priest of God, we were his life, the object of his work and prayer. With a quiet "..... and what's your name?" he would tease us; and then surprise us with a few details of school days, facts that we had forgotten, generally always favorable, but even the others were quickly forgotten with the quiet pat on the head and the re-assuring "..... that's alright." Monsignor has left his "Saints" to share the company of the saints of God, Joseph a worker, in the company of his Model and Patron.

Saint Paul's will go on to great accomplishments, but at its greatest it will always owe its progress to the loving understanding, the wisdom of a man who loved children, and wanted them to love God. May he rest in deserved peace.
